

PRESS RELEASE

20something gives it you one more time!

TX: Sunday 16 March at 1.05pm and 23 March at 1.30pm

20something is about to move up to primetime, but for the next two weeks the show will still rock your Sundays, in the around lunchtime slot, while it sets its sights on entertaining you in a bigger and better prime-time 8pm slot as of Wednesday March 26, still with your hot presenters Namhla and Kyle...

This Week on the show (TX: Sunday March 16 at 1.05pm)

20something visits Y-fm to check out how the biggest youth radio station is doing. First up Namhla chats with Pabi Moloj and Chilli M, two of the station's DJs to find out what keeps them going, where they find the inspiration for their shows and what makes them tick...

Next, Kyle navigates the Y building and also finds out what else is cooking, as if that isn't enough, he also gives you a glimpse into what sort of careers one can get involved in on a radio station from being a sound engineer to being a sales executive!

The movie preview of the week is the Oscar-nominated Charlie Wilson's War, starring Oscar-winners Tom Hanks and Julia Roberts.

The show plays out with In-Cha's video "Violin Superstar"

Next Week on the show (TX: Sunday March 23 at 1.30pm)

Still keeping with the Y, theme, this week Namhla and Kyle visit Y-fm sister publication Y-mag. Coming up, Namhla gets close to the Editor Fungai Kanyuchi to find out more about the process that he goes through to give us a magazine every month.

20something Hustle's a talent with an aspiring writer and poet Nozipho who shares her talent with us... and the Y staff bring it up for us as we check out the latest trends in the accessory department.

The movie preview of the week is 10 000 BC, straight from being lauded as a waste of money by critics throughout North America, this epic about pre-historic existence made a killing at the box-office.

Pitch Black gives an ode to the big girls with "S'dudla Mafehlefehle".
