3rd Degree

TX Tuesday 3 June at 8pm

In South Africa, back street abortions are rife, despite the fact that abortion is legal. Performed by criminals trying to make a quick buck, illegal abortions often have dire consequences for the women who seek them.

Subject to filthy conditions and dangerous situations, women risk their health, their fertility, and sometimes their lives.

But why would any woman put herself through such a traumatising experience when safe and legal abortions are available at public hospitals? 3rd Degree goes undercover to expose the fallacy of South Africa's accessible abortion services. What they found makes back street abortion look like a walk in the park.
