3rd Degree: ANCYL president Julius Malema in the hot seat

They presented bare buttocks to the media at their conference in Bloemfontein. They hurled bottles at their rivals as they met to elect a new leader. Now the president of the ANC Youth League Julius Malema has shocked South Africa by saying that they are prepared to kill if corruption charges against Jacob Zuma are not dropped.

Or did he? At a press conference on Thursday, Malema says the press blew what he said out of proportion “with clear, malicious intent”. He added that it was all part of a political agenda to discredit the league.

This Tuesday 3rd Degree puts ANCYL president Julius Malema in the hot seat, to answer questions about just how far they are prepared to go to see their man, the president of the ANC, into power.
