3rd Degree
Free State University Racism
TX: Tuesday 4 March at 8pm

There's been widespread outrage at the racist video filmed by students from the University of the Free State. In the video, five university cleaners are forced to participate in inhuman and derogatory actions including eating stew drenched with urine.

Hostels at the university have been segregated up until now - even though we are fourteen years into our democracy. After failing to integrate the residences in the late 1990's because of mass protests, the university's council decided that 2008 would be the deadline to achieve this.

As a form of protest, the students decided to film the video. This week on 3rd Degree, we show the full 12 minutes and invite members of the South African Students organisation and the Freedom Front Plus to debate what is happening with our youth.

Join 3rd Degree as we look at the nation's misguided youth, this Tuesday at 8pm.
