Exclusive: Fidentia boss J Arthur Brown speaks

Widows and orphans left starving, robbed of their monthly stipends. Hundreds of people retrenched, unable to find new jobs. Sports teams and choirs left stranded with no sponsorship money. Millions have been plundered – money meant for safe investments.

The man at the centre of this scandal, Fidentia boss J Arthur Brown. He started the Fidentia group in 2003. Within three years he grew the business from a staff of eight to over a thousand employees. He managed to get his hands on the trust money of thousands of orphaned mineworkers' children. And now the Financial Services Board says at least 689 million rand is missing.

Brown was arrested and charged with fraud and theft. But not before 3rd Degree put him in the hot-seat. In a no-holds barred interview, Debora Patta takes Brown to task. Watch him squirm under a barrage of fierce questions. Will he be able to fudge his way out of a web of lies and deceit?
