3rd Degree: Police Incompetence Tuesday 17 October 2006

Falling under 3rd Degree's spotlight this week is police incompetence and their inability to deal with the country's crime.

On 4 July this year, Alwyn Pringle and Trevor Adams were captured outside the deserted Shareworld building near Nasrec. The young brothers were beaten and their bodies dumped. Sadly, only Alwyn survived.

The police's response to this murder and brutality: No statements were taken, a suspect was released and vital evidence was left at the scene of the crime.

3rd Degree went undercover to record the progress on this case. But shocking hidden camera footage reveals gross police incompetence, laziness and negligence.

While criminals hold this country ransom and police fail miserably at their job, 3rd Degree asks: haven't we all had enough?

3rd Degree investigates Tuesday, 17 October at 8pm only on e!
