

Press Release

3rd Degree: Update Show Tuesday 8 August at 8pm

It's that time of year again - when 3rd Degree brings you updates on some of their most controversial shows.

It's been six months since the Gauteng Education MEC promised to look into the dismissal of HIV-positive teacher Lydia Khanyile, yet nothing has been done.

After the brutal double rape and murder of two young girls in Knysna, a suspect was arrested and is on trial. We bring you the latest.

The victim of a horrific multi-related attack is meant to be under police protection in hospital, but last week she was released and has disappeared.

Since the broadcast of our show about the Barberton place of safety, Sophie Jardin has been inundated with offers of help for her home. The Mpumalanga department of social welfare hasn't removed more of the children and is now trying to help the home with resources and aid.

These are just some of the stories that captured the imagination of viewers and now 3rd Degree revisits them to find out what has changed.

3rd Degree investigates Tuesday, 8 August at 8pm, only on e!

Megan Small
3rd Degree, e.tv
011 537 9425
Email: megan.small@etv.co.za