e Press Release: 3rd Degree – December Update

TX: Tuesday 14 December 2010 at 9.30PM

This week 3rd Degree brings you feed-back and follow-up on some of our most controversial stories.

Over a year ago 3rd Degree introduced you to Christine Ehlers, a transsexual who was discriminated against, then fired by her employer for her sexual orientation. The company was eventually forced to settle out of court. Christine hopes her story will act as a warning to other prejudiced employers.

An old man suffering from dementia died in police custody. Two years later, the policemen who pepper sprayed and arrested him, were finally brought to book. After our broadcast, action was taken and suspended sentences given to the officers.

We also reveal the spirit of ubuntu is alive and well as 3rd Degree viewers open their hearts to Thelma Vanda of Thokoza a victim of poverty and poor service delivery. After our broadcast, Thelma was given a house, much needed furniture and food by generous viewers.

All this and more, on 3rd Degree Tuesday 14 December.
