

PRESS RELEASE

Body art, 20something Style
TX: Wednesday 14 May, at 8pm

In different cultures and for different people, body art can be considered as far and wide as anything from spiritual or decorative way of self expression. Tattoos and body piercings or rather body art have become a part of many musicians and actors image in terms of how the world sees them.

Tattoo artist, Chantal Brown chats to 20something about her life as a tattoo artist and what it takes to become one.

Namhla gets a sneak peak at 5 time Sama nominee and RnB artist, Loyiso's body art. He also tells 20something about his first piercing experience.

Henna is a less permanent body art adornment and our girl Namhla tries it out; she also explores body art bling.

This week 20something previews the movie "What happens in Vegas" starring Ashton Kutcher and Cameron Diaz.

We play out with "Rock your body" by Bob Sinclair.

This week viewers can stand a chance to win 2 exclusive Paw Paw watches, so stay stunned to 20something, every Wednesday at 8pm, free on e.
