Cheaters Returns

TX: Monday 6 July at 9pm

The reality series, Cheaters, makes a comeback on Monday evenings at 9pm as of 6th July 2009. Host Joey Greco will lead viewers through the difficult experience of confrontation as cheating partners are exposed.

The Cheaters detective agents get to work by keeping the suspected partner under 24 hour surveillance. If confirming footage of the unfaithful mate is caught on tape, the victim is shown the evidence.

The cheater is then confronted in the presence of his/her lover where an argument or violent clash ensues. The heartbroken victim then either returns home with the Cheaters crew or the unfaithful partner.

IN THE FIRST EPISODE

When Robert Robnett met his girlfriend, Ashley, the attraction was instant for the two love birds. But after six months of being together the honeymoon phase is over.

Robert still cares deeply for Ashley but lately her behaviour has him suspicious. Ashley always has an excuse as to why she can't spend quality time with Robert. Desperately needing answers, Robert contacts Cheaters and discovers the betrayal of a close friend.
