Forgive & Forger: Rafir
TX: 22 July, at 8.30pm

All good things come to an end. This week we bid farewell to a viewers firm favourite, Forgive & Forget. An eventful season that saw the show travel to almost all nine provinces, covering stories that saw two communities bury their hatchet, families reunited, lovers begging to be taken back and children apologising to their elders.

This week, we meet Rafir, a recovering alcoholic, who wants to apologize to his wife of 25 years for the trauma he put her through while he was suffering from this disease. Although he has been sober for a year, and they are still together, his wife does not really trust him.

To prove how serious he is, Rafir wants to do something nice for her to show that he is a changed man, and that he is truly sorry. They have 3 children together, who also do not believe that their father has truly changed. Will they be convinced? Watch this Wednesday at 8.30pm to see if they are.
