Forgive & Forget: New Leaf

In tonight's episode we meet a son who is in need of his father's forgiveness as life's lessons have taught him that being a father isn't all about biology and that the man who raised him and he's come to know as his father has been there for him even when things weren't going his way.

S'thembiso is this week's Forgive & Forget guest who has had to handle a lot through his adult life. He grew up with his step father and he was made to believe that this was his real father.

Doris meets S'thembiso as he recalls how he retaliated by stealing from his step father and now he regrets ever doing this to the man that raised him up. Will his father forgive him and welcome him back home?

Forgive & Forget, every Tuesday at 8.30pm
