

Press Release

Great Expectations Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday 25-27 Sep 11.30am

Comedy Mums (Pre-recorded show due to Heritage Day) Monday, 25 September at 11.30am

Baby throws his food across the kitchen, your husband comes home and asks why you are still in your pyjamas and at that moment you realize your body is never going to be the same again, what can you do? You can laugh about it. 25 September Great Expectations shares the humorous side of mothering. Amidst the crazy, wild, sometimes frustrating and difficult experience that motherhood is, a sense of humour is a vital tool. We explore why this tool of humour is so vital. Bear in mind this is a pre-recorded show due to Heritage Day.

Scratch Scratch Tuesday, 26 September at 11.30

The skin is largest organ of the body and with babies it is subject to all sorts of rashes and changes. Roseola is a common type of rash; babies can also be subject to eczema, heat rash and the more serious rashes that indicate measles, chicken pox and so on. We need to become familiar with the most common rashes and how they present. 26 September Great Expectations gives guidance on what can be used as treatment at home and what needs medical intervention.

Nanny 911

Wednesday, 27 September at 11.30am

Nanny Deb finds Cindy and Tim Paul at their wits end, with their 8-year-old daughter while a set of 4-year-old triplets rule the roost. The children refuse to clean their rooms, put away their toys and find enjoyment in yelling, slapping and pulling each others hair. Meanwhile, Tim finds this amusing and encourages their bad behavior. Assigned to the case by Head Nanny Lillian, could this be 'mission impossible' for Nanny Deb?
