

Press Release

HAVE A 20SOMETHING CHRISTMAS! Sunday, 18 December @ 1pm

Christmas is upon us and if you're a last minute shopper, who gets a kick at the thrill and the rush, while looking for a perfect last-minute gift, then good luck! If cheap thrills aren't your thing then sit back and relax as Namhla Ndlovu flies solo this week, to give you yet another entertainment filled show on 20something this Sunday.

Planning a fabulous party affair for Christmas? Then look no further than 20something. We have decorator extraordinaire Karen Short in the house to give a few pointers, which could inspire you with some cool Christmas party ideas.

On our book review segment we have author and True Love journalist Melinda Fergus reviewing her favourite reads and we also check out where 20somethings hangout this festive season in our Hang review.

The movie preview of the week is "Elizabethtown". After causing the Oregon Shoe Company he works for to lose hundreds of millions of dollars, Drew (Orlando Bloom) is fired for his mistake, and promptly dumped by his girlfriend, Ellen (Jessica Biel). On the verge of suicide, Drew is oddly given a new purpose in life when he is brought back to his family's small Kentucky hometown of Elizabethtown following the death of his father, Mitch, as it falls to him to make sure that his dying wishes are fulfilled. On the way home Drew meets a flight attendant, Claire (Kirsten Dunst), with whom he falls in love, in a romance that helps his life get back on track.

To close off 2005 we are 'Curious Pimping' with Tony Yayo! Have a cool Christmas and we'll see you in the New Year! ...and lookout for a new face joining Namhla.
