Judge for Yourself Sunday 17 September at 6.30pm

Abortion Amendment Act in the balance?

The amendment to the Choice in Termination of Pregnancy Act has sought to improve access to abortion services. Doctors for Life has challenged the amendment and won.

The Act was thrown out by the Constitutional Court, because parliament was found not to have consulted with the public sufficiently.

The amendment has been sent back for proper consultation, though the Act remains valid for 18 months. What could this mean for the practical implementation of the right to abortion in the future?

Join Judge Dennis Davis this Sunday, and judge for yourself. Guests include Sibongile Ndashe, attorney for Women's Legal Centre, John Smyth, QC, Legal council for Doctors for Life and Val Truby, Marie Stopes Clinic.
