Let's Fix It

TX: Tuesday 26 August at 8.30pm

This week on Let's Fix It, they zoom in on Mpumalanga and the Western Cape. In the Cape, they will assist a group of concerned parents that have started a brass band to help keep their kids off the streets. Music has a long, rich history in various Cape Town's communities and is a source of pride and identity for its participants. They need help with food, instruments and uniforms.

In Mpumalanga, a female coach of a development youth cricket club in a poor community needs equipment and tracksuits for the Commodores Cricket Club. It is proven that sport plays an important role in children's physical development, both gross and fine motor skills. In addition, it improves mental concentration and helps young people develop life skills such as teamwork, communication and self-respect.

Let's Fix It offers a helping hand.
