Let's Fix It Tuesday 15 August at 8.30pm

Let's Fix It meets up with 20-year-old Astrid Isaacs, who is living with her grandfather in Worcester. Her dream, ever since she was at primary school, is to become a nurse. She sees it as a calling – she knows in her heart that this is where she can be of greatest value to others. Host Samm Marshall gives this young woman a boost in the right direction for her to realise her dream.

We also meet the young and hungry minds of the pupils in Hexpark Primary School (also in Worcester). Their school is in dire need of a media centre, but their call for help always falls on deaf ears. Samm gives these students a platform where their plea for help is heard by the residence of Cape Town.
