Let's Fix It: Second Season Tuesday 6 June at 8.30pm

NEW LOOK, NEW MUSIC AND NEW PRESENTER

On Tuesday 8 June at 8.30pm, e.tv launches the second season of its highly popular weekly reality series, Let's Fix It. Broadcasting pro and e.tv Morning Edition presenter, Samm Marshall, will host the programme.

In the short time since its launch, the Let's Fix It team has assisted in empowering many needy people. Says Kirsty Blackford, Executive Producer of the programme: "The show has been given a new look and we are taking it to a higher level. This season we not only want to assist those less fortunate, but we are also looking at ways of empowering them so that they can sustain an improved lifestyle."

Samm Marshall says: "The show is a humbling experience and this time it is going to be bigger and better. Having read all the many, many letters, we have identified a number of common needs – bursaries, wheelchairs, electrical appliances, and so forth.

"It is impossible to cover all of these stories each week so we are going to introduce a section called "The Quick Fix". All names of people who have requested wheel chairs for example, will be put into a hat and then depending upon the amount of wheelchairs we have managed to secure from our sponsors, we will randomly select a number of names, who will each get a wheelchair."

In a world of rampant greed and heartless materialism, Let's Fix It is indeed a breath of fresh air. Because of its altruistic values, this programme has been a smash hit with viewers since its inception. Now it is back for a second season, starting on Tuesday 6 June at 8.30pm.
