Live it Up, 20something style...

Summertime and the living is easy... not true for all of us, but definitely a mantra for 20something's resident slob Kyle White as he still brings us the perks of Island Living like he lived it up in Mauritius as part of the Tropika Island Treasure Competition.

This week on 20something:

20something takes you on a private island trip in true style as Kyle navigates the exotic island of Mauritius.

- Then chats to Krish from Vertical World about extreme adventures on the islands.
- Not one to run away from a challenge, even though he has two left feet, Kyle takes Sega dance classes with the help of a HOT instructor and learns a few things about the island music scene.
- Plus, don't miss a chance of a lifetime as 20something gives you and partner a chance to win an all expense paid for trip for one very lucky viewer to Mauritius, all to the value of 25 grand!

20something is where the fun is at, every Wednesday at 8pm, only on e.tv!
