

Press Release

Stars align on 20something! Sunday 22 October at 1.20pm and 29 October at 1.20pm

Stars, stars and more stars! 20something is all about glitter and as usual Namhla Ndlovu and Shashi Naidoo are at the forefront to bring you all that sparkles in the entertainment world! Where do you need to be? Well, in front of your TV set every Sunday afternoon at around lunchtime, free on e.

22 October at 1:20pm

We speak to Sylvaine Strike, who won the 2006 Standard Bank Young Artist Award for Drama, about her acting career. Sylvaine is an accomplished actress, theatre director, producer and writer. She is not only confined to theatre but has also made her mark in TV, radio and film. We chat with this talented actress to find out exactly what she loves about theatre and acting, and what she sees herself doing in the future.

We chat to Thapelo and George about Beatboxing – the vocal percussion that has become synonymous with hip hop culture. Considered by many to be a fifth element of hip-hop, it is primarily concerned with the art of creating beats, rhythms, and melodies using the human mouth. Lately it has been booming in South Africa with a lot of hip-hop artists including the art form in their acts.

We preview the movie 'American Gun'. A series of interwoven storylines bringing to light how the proliferations of guns in America dramatically influence and shape everyday lives. A gun shop owner, an ace student, a single mother, and a school principal are among those profoundly affected.

We play out with Chingy (featuring Tyrese) 'Pulling me back'.

29 October at 1:20pm

We chat to the finalists of the MTV VJ Search, Fikile from Cape Town, Xylon from Port Elizabeth, Kyle from Johannesburg and Sandy from Durban. We find out more about their lives before and after the VJ Search and we find out what this competition means for each of them.

We preview the movie 'Grizzly Man'. This docudrama centres on amateur grizzly bear enthusiast Timothy Treadwell as he periodically journeys to Alaska to study and live with the bears. He and his girlfriend, Amie Huguenard, were killed by a rogue bear in October 2003. The film explores their passionate lives as they found solace among these endangered animals.

We play out with the queen of unconventional R&B, Kellis with 'Bossy'.
