ECW Change in Schedule Saturday 04 November after the 8pm movie

The ECW is billed as the toughest show on television. It is the no-frills wrestling show that pushes all boundaries, a trend-setter in the art of edgy, hardcore wrestling.

Ever since ECW has been on our screens fans have welcomed it with open arms, embracing the raw side of wrestling with its blood, sweat, guts and bruises. ECW fans demand that the action be brutally real and downright ferocious.

This, however, means that some episodes are at times more suited for adult viewers. This is the case with the ECW episode 18, originally scheduled for Saturday 4 November at 5pm.

In light of this particular episode's graphic content, e.tv has replaced episode 18 with a repeat of last week's WWE SmackDown! Episode 18 will now be aired at 10.05pm on Saturday, 4 November.

Please note that ECW episode 18 carries an age restriction of 16 and is not suitable for children.
