

PRESS RELEASE

A NEW SEASON OF FELICITY

Coming to e.tv this winter is a new season of Felicity. We've laughed with her; we've cried with her, now join her for the final season where viewers can look forward to more laughter, tears, drama and surprises. With a pregnancy scare, a beauty pageant, and a wedding in store for the gang we're in for a dramatic finale.

It's been three years of self-discovery for Felicity Porter (Keri Russell) and she has come a long way since following Ben (Scott Speedman) all the way to New York City. Now facing their senior year of college, and with the threat of real life hanging over their heads, it's time to start making choices that will determine the course of their lives.

After a carefree summer in New York with Noel (Scott Foley) and Javier (Ian Gomez), Felicity is in for a major change of pace. Her final year is about to start and she is feeling lost and directionless. And having her father on her case, nagging her about her future, she feels the need to prove that moving to New York was not a waste of time by getting into the honours art programme, and paying her own way.

Felicity is disheartened by Ben's sudden sense of purpose in wanting to become a doctor, as she expected him to be just as aimless as she is. He gets in trouble with his organic chemistry professor after arriving late for class because he was covering for Felicity at work. With Ben angry with her for not appreciating all the pressure he is under, Felicity turns to Noel for sympathy after not making it into the honours art programme. After comparing notes about their pathetic lives, they start kissing. Javier has become the go-between for the demanding Elena (Tangi Miller) and his cousin, who is designing her wedding dress. And Sean (Greg Grunberg) and Meghan (Amanda Foreman) argue after Tracy is added to a hypothetical list of men with whom she wants to sleep with.

So what does the future hold for our friends? Can Felicity equal Ben's new willpower now that he's found his path in life? With love in the air, who will be the couple to tie the knot? Will it be Elena and Tracy or Meghan and Sean? Or will interfering families and other pressures be too much for them all? And what is happening with Noel? Will his job as a counsellor bring the answers he's been searching for?
