e.tv RESPONSE TO REPORT ON MINISTER BALFOUR'S HOME

e.tv stands by its report into poor security at Minister Ngconde Balfour's home and believes it is in the public interest.

The e.News exposé was an honest attempt to test security at the ministerial complex.

This in light of the fact that the night before the minister's residence, and that of Education Minister Naledi Pandor, were both burgled.

e.tv is of the view that all senior members of Government should receive the highest levels of protection, and that this should be exposed if it is insufficient.
