The Gym That Never Was

It was to be the most spectacular gym ever to come to the dusty town of Mafikeng: an indoor heated swimming pool, steam rooms, a spinning studio and those other must-haves for any respectable fitness centre such as aqua aerobics, super circuit and weights.

The people of Mafikeng simply couldn't resist the sales pitch. Almost a thousand residents bought the beauty ideal - and a contract - from the Fusion Active sales team. Months later, it is now clear they have been conned.

Only an abandoned shell remains where the state-of-the-art gym should have been. The owners of Fusion Active have upped and left town and the people of Mafikeng have lost over a million rand.

This week, we investigate the gym that never was.

3rd degree on Tuesday 27 September @ 8pm
