

PRESS RELEASE

That Sport Show

And Up For Discussion this Monday May 09 @ 7.30pm...

All the latest news on the new Super 14 franchise saga. We look at the Brian Mitchell - Harold Volbrecht charity fight and we debate the charity payouts from the Coca Cola Cup. These are the week's hot topics up for argument - and a bit of rational banter - on the most controversial (and live!) sports show ever to be screened on South African TV.

Every week, the sharp, knowledgeable and extremely forthright, Udo Carelse, hosts the show with his usual quirky humour and impressive expertise, provoking the viewer and studio guests into off-the-cuff opinions on current and highly contentious sports issues.

This week: We start the show with a lively chat on the state of the new Super 14 franchise. We debate how involved government should be in the new side and look at which region we believe should get the appointment. Brian Mitchell and Harold Volbrecht lace up their gloves one more time in a charity fight, we discuss the merits and whom we think will come out on top. Finally we look at the charity payouts from the Coca-cola Cup, have they gone to the right people, or have they gone out at all.

Never offside, never taking a dive and always ready for a brawl,

That Sport Show. Every Monday @ 7.30pm, only on e.
